This is an opportunity to become a valuable member of a very supportive team. Loughton School works hard to inspire children to recognise and achieve their full potential and become considerate, respectful and aware members of society through excitement in learning and working with the community in a secure and caring environment.

Ofsted says our children are “interested and interesting” and that they “flourish as a result of the good care and rich learning experiences that teachers provide”.

Our governors recognise that SATs results are only one part of a child’s education and wholeheartedly support our vision to educate and nurture the whole child.

Our teachers say, “Every day holds something new and exciting.”

According to a recent Ofsted parent survey over 90% of Our parents say, “they would recommend our school to friends.”

Our children say that they feel safe and that bullying is rare.

To apply for this post, please write to or email Mrs Rebekah Green explaining why you would be suited for this role.
