

It's Nearly Half Term...

More About The Office Staff by reporters Lauren and Macy

In the last edition of LS News we told you about the work of Mrs Graham, the office manager.

Today we are introducing you to Mrs Kirkwood. We spoke to Mrs Kirkwood and found out about her job at Loughton School.

She organises the music lesson timetables, as well as doing the pupil data base (keeping all the details up to date about all the children at our school). She orders the school uniform and organises letters to go home. She has been working here for two years now.

Late!

We are sorry this edition is late.

*It was planned for the New Year. Unfortunately, we have had difficulties with the publishing program we use so we are now trying a new one.

Where is the litter you found?

Outside on the playground and on the grass.

What sorts of things have been dropped on the floor?

Orange peel, paper bags, sweet wrappers etcetera, etcetera.

Who do you think is littering?

I'm not sure.

Two weeks at least.

Yes they can! What about the Eco Warriors getting litter monitors?

You said you signed up to be an Eco Warrior, but did you get in?

No I didn't get in, but I do still care about the school's environment.

Do you recycle and why?

I love recycling because I want to take care of the school.

What message would you give to people about littering?

Stop littering! It doesn't make the school tidy and it damages the school's environment.

Better, greener, safer, cleaner.

Teachers
by Mikaeel

Teachers are clever,
They will never say never.
Teachers are heroes,
They help us not get zeroes.
They teach us not to be fools
But to use our brains like tools.
Teachers make Maths
Seem like a breeze,

So that you don't get any Cs.
Unless you get your 5s
Mixed up with your 3s,
Then you're sure to get
A pile of Ds!
Teachers are funny,
Most are as sweet as honey!
