On Monday, we left on a coach at 5am in the morning. It was going to last for approximately 4-5 hours. <sup>Luckily</sup> likely we had a toilet break. We arrived at the ferry, which was where we had our packed breakfast. Then we arrived at France's port and we had long drive through France and Belgium. We stopped <sup>in</sup> at Belgium to have our lunch. We then got back to the coach and arrived at Germany. It took another 45mins to get to Boppard. Our hotel was called Gästehaus Rheinlust. We had our dinner and went to sleep.

On Tuesday, we had our breakfast and set off to go to Koblenz where we saw the Deutsches Eck. This was a place where ~~it~~ had ~~all~~ <sup>flags from</sup> all the states of Germany's flags ~~were~~ positioned like a triangle and in the middle of the Eck was a statue of King Wilhelm who was really big in the statue but in real life he was really small. We then went near the palace to have our lunch. After having our lunch, we went on a cable car ride in which we could nearly see the whole of Germany! We then went bowling! I came second! We later had dinner and went to sleep.

* group On Wednesday we went on a treasure hunt. To see which group found all the shops in their list. Our group came first! We then did some fun shopping. After this we went on a ferry ride. It was very long but we still had fun! We later had the best thing of all which was having ice cream! It was delicious, I also had ice cream for dinner. We had to sleep early because we had a big day the next day.

On Thursday, we went to an epic castle which had lots (I mean lots) of artifacts. And many coats of arms. We then went to Ridesheim and saw the amazing statue Niederwalddenkmal. It was enormous. We then did shopping in Ridesheim. We also went to the music museum where I was wondered by it's creativity. When we arrived at our hotel, we sadly had to pack our bags to go back to England.

On the last day, we did the same things on Monday but the other way round. We went to Belgium, through France and we had to show our passports to the port's police. We had a delicious meal in the ferry. We then went on coach (in England now) and arrived back at home.

I did enjoy the Germany trip. I wish to write more but I really can't Bye! See you again soon!
