How we use your information

The categories of information that we collect, process, hold and share include:

- personal information such as name and address
- information for identity purposes such as passport, driving licence, bank details, photo
- sensitive data including characteristics' information such as gender, age, nationality
- criminal offence data
- volunteer details such as start and end dates, roles

Most of this information is collected during the application process.

Why we collect and use this information

We use school volunteers' data to:

- assist in the safe and smooth running of the school

The lawful basis on which we process this information

We process personal and sensitive data in the public interest and as our legal obligation and we record criminal offence information in an official capacity.

Collecting this information

Whilst the majority of information you provide to us is mandatory, some of it is provided to us on a voluntary basis. In order to comply with data protection legislation, we will inform you whether you are required to provide certain information to us or if you have a choice in this.

Storing this information

We hold school volunteers' data for a varying length of time depending on what the information is and according to the school's data retention policy (available on request).

Who we share this information with

We do not share information about school volunteers with anyone without consent unless the law and our policies allow us to do so.

Transferring information overseas

We will not transfer any personal information outside the European Economic Area (EEA) without obtaining specific consent.

Requesting access to your personal data

Under data protection legislation, you have the right to request access to information about you that we hold. To make a request for your personal information, contact Diane Simpson or Zoe Duggan.

You also have the right to:

- object to processing of personal data that is likely to cause, or is causing, damage or distress
- prevent processing for the purpose of direct marketing
- object to decisions being taken by automated means
- in certain circumstances, have inaccurate personal data rectified, blocked, erased or destroyed; and
- claim compensation for damages caused by a breach of the Data Protection regulations

If you have a concern about the way we are collecting or using your personal data, we ask that you raise your concern with us in the first instance. Alternatively, you can contact the Information Commissioner's Office at <https://ico.org.uk/concerns/>
